

Whop Videos Review Guidelines

Your job is to review every submission carefully and protect the campaign budget. Do not rush approvals. Follow the full review flow every time.

Start by Reviewing the Campaign Brief

Before checking any submission, read the campaign guidelines properly. Every campaign has different rules, some require dedicated accounts, some don't. Some require specific hashtags, branding, or content styles.

You must clearly understand:

- Content style allowed
- Audience requirements
- Whether a dedicated account is required

Never assume. Always confirm from the campaign details.

Account Review

Open the account and review it properly.

If the campaign requires a dedicated account, make sure:

- The page is fully focused on that campaign
- No mixed campaign posting
- No unrelated niche content

If it is not dedicated (when required), reject the submission.

If the campaign does not require a dedicated account, still check that:

- The account looks real
- No obvious spam behavior
- No history of botting

If the account looks suspicious, review carefully before approving.

Content Verification

Watch the full video. Do not approve without watching completely.

Make sure:

- The content follows the required style
- Branding (if required) is visible
- Required mentions or slides are included
- No copyrighted or restricted material (if prohibited)
- No reused content from other campaigns

If the video does not follow the campaign content style or misses required elements, reject it clearly with reason.

Hashtag & Caption Check

If the campaign requires a specific hashtag, confirm it is included and spelled correctly.

If missing or incorrect → reject.

Also check if the caption violates any campaign rule (wrong links, promoting something else, etc.).

Demographics Requirement

If the campaign requires a minimum Tier 1 audience:

- Check analytics screenshot
- Confirm required percentage (usually 40%+ Tier 1)
- Screenshot must be clear and unedited

If below required percentage → reject.

If analytics look suspicious → reject and write:
“Send analytics in ticket”

View Graph & Engagement Check

Always check the views graph and engagement ratio.

Look for:

- Sudden unnatural spikes
- Very high views with very low likes/comments
- Strange patterns that don't look organic

If suspicious:

- Reject submission
- Ask for analytics in ticket

If analytics confirm botting → keep rejected.

If you see something extreme like very high views with almost zero engagement, that is a major red flag. Escalate or ban if clearly botted.

Post-Approval Monitoring

Approval is not the end of your job.

Creators sometimes bot views after approval to increase payout. You must periodically re-check approved submissions, especially high-view posts.

If you detect botting after approval:

- Reject the submission
- Report immediately
- Prevent payout

We do not pay for fake growth.

Final Reminder

Be fair but strict.

Do not approve based on assumptions.

If something feels wrong, investigate further.

It is better to double-check than to approve a botted or rule-breaking submission.
